

HALAM LIFE

JUNE 2008 No 1

This is the first in an occasional series of publications entitled “HALAM LIFE” which will record “events” in the village. This edition contains photographs of the very colourful “70’s Night” fundraiser for the Church Organ Fund, generously held at Field Cottage, home of the McCrackens (you remember Margaret - the one who’s nearly 50!!) on 24th May 2008. Over £400 was raised for the Organ Fund from the event, so thanks to all who attended and to Maraget and Alan for hosting a fun evening!

Julie Paris (yes really!!) with Lorna and Adam Baisley demonstrating that flower power is alive and well!

Stephanie McCracken (in blue) and Rachel Freeman getting “into the groove.....”

Mr Peter Lennard Jones resplendent in a pink and white tie which we believe was a present from his grandmother c1976 (Wig, what wig?????)

Tracey Holmes and Jackie Thornewill “Rocking all over the world.....” (well Halam anyway!)

“Oops upside your head, I said Oops upside your head...”

By the end of the evening, Margaret McCracken was beginning to feel her age (which isn’t quite 50!)

“Beatnik” Andrew Paris, with freshly dyed facial hair confirming that there is life after Blackadder!

Chris Davis came dressed as a “Bovver boy” thereby proving the old adage that you can take the boy out of East London but.....

Alec Wells joined in the fun in a Beatles Sgt Peppers outfit.... left over from the 1960’s we presume!

“Shake your body down” has never had so much meaning! Some of the dancers in Halam’s version of Pans People (!) with an age defying little routine to “Boogie Wonderland” by Earth Wind and Fire

3 of Halam’s Village People preparing for their unique performance.....

& here is an image of the performance itself....which left the audience in stitches not to mention the state in which the performers ended up.....
